UNITED STATES ARMS CONTROL AND DISARMAMENT AGENCY
WASHINGTON

OFFICE OF
THE DIRECTOR

October 2, 1970

Dear Dick:

On Wednesday, September 30, members of my staff and I were given an excellent briefing on strategic models at the National Photographic Interpretation Center, which also included an overview of the Middle East cease-fire area. The information presented has significant arms control implications which will be very useful in connection with future SALT activities.

I hope you will express my sincere appreciation to Art Lundahl and his staff and to Bruce Clarke who arranged the visit.

The Honorable
Richard Helms, Director,
Central Intelligence Agency,
